USE OF FORCE POLICY (2010 LAPD Manual 1/556)

PREAMBLE TO USE OF FORCE. The use of force by members of law enforcement is a matter of critical concern both to the public and the law enforcement community. It is recognized that some individuals will not comply with the law or submit to control unless compelled to do so by the use of force; therefore, law enforcement officers are sometimes called upon to use force in the performance of their duties. It is also recognized that members of law enforcement derive their authority from the public and, therefore, must be ever mindful that they are not only the guardians, but also the servants of the public.

The Department's guiding value when using force shall be reverence for human life. When warranted, Department personnel may objectively use reasonable force to carry out their duties. Officers who use unreasonable force degrade the confidence of the community we serve, expose the Department and fellow officers to legal and physical hazards, and violate the rights of individuals upon whom unreasonable force is used. Conversely, officers who fail to use force when warranted may endanger themselves, the community and fellow officers.

Objectively Reasonable. *The legal standard used to determine the lawfulness of a use of force is the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution. See Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386 (1989). Graham states in part, "The reasonableness of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. The calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments - in circumstances that are tense, uncertain and rapidly evolving - about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation. The test of reasonableness is not capable of precise definition or mechanical application." The force must be reasonable under the circumstances known to the officer at the time the force was used. Therefore, the Department examines all uses of force from an objective standard rather than a subjective standard.*

Factors Used to Determine Reasonableness. *The Department examines reasonableness using Graham and from the articulated facts from the perspective of a Los Angeles Police Officer with similar training and experience placed in generally the same set of circumstances. In determining the appropriate level of force, officers shall evaluate each situation in light of facts and circumstances of each particular case. Those factors may include but are not limited to: The seriousness of the crime or suspected offense; the level of threat or resistance presented by the subject; whether the subject was posing an immediate threat to officers or a danger to the community; the potential for injury to citizens, officers or subjects; the risk or apparent attempt by the subject to escape; the conduct of the subject being confronted (as reasonably perceived by the officer at the time); the time available to an officer to make a decision; the availability of other resources; the training and experience of the officer; the proximity or access of weapons to the subject; officer versus subject factors such as age, size, relative* strength, skill level, injury/exhaustion and number officers versus subjects; and, the environmental factors and/or other exigent circumstances.

Serious Bodily Injury. California Penal Code Section 243(f)(4) defines Serious Bodily Injury as including but not limited to: Loss of consciousness; concussion; bone fracture; protracted loss or impairment of function of any bodily member or organ; a wound requiring extensive suturing; and serious disfigurement.

Warning Shots. The intentional discharge of a firearm off target, not intended to hit a person, to warn others that deadly force is imminent.

Use of Force – General. It is the policy of this Department that personnel may use only that force which is “objectively reasonable” to: Defend themselves; defend others; effect an arrest or detention; prevent escape; or overcome resistance.

Deadly Force. Law enforcement officers are authorized to use deadly force to: Protect themselves or others from what is reasonably believed to be in imminent threat of death or serious bodily injury; or, Prevent a crime where the suspect’s actions place person(s) in imminent jeopardy of death or serious bodily injury; or, Prevent the escape of a violent fleeing felon when there is probable cause to believe the escape will pose a significant threat of death or serious bodily injury to the officer or others if apprehension is delayed. In this circumstance, officers shall, to the extent practical, avoid using deadly force that might subject innocent bystanders or hostages to possible death or injury.

Warning Shots. Warning shots shall only be used in exceptional circumstances where it might reasonably be expected to avoid the need to use deadly force. Generally, warning shots shall be directed in a manner that minimizes the risk of injury to innocent persons, ricochet dangers, and property damage.

Shooting At or From Moving Vehicles. Firearms shall not be discharged at a moving vehicle unless a person in the vehicle is immediately threatening the officer or another person with deadly force by means other than the vehicle. The moving vehicle itself shall not presumptively constitute a threat that justifies an officer’s use of deadly force. An officer threatened by an oncoming vehicle shall move out of its path instead of discharging a firearm at it or any of its occupants. Firearms shall not be discharged from a moving vehicle, except in exigent circumstances and in the immediate defense of life. Note: It is understood that the policy in regards to discharging a firearm at or from a moving vehicle may not cover every situation that may arise. In all situations, Department members are expected to act with intelligence and exercise sound judgment, attending to the spirit of this policy. Any deviations from the provisions of this policy shall be examined rigorously on a case-by-case basis. The involved officer must be able to articulate clearly the reasons for the use of deadly force. Factors that may be considered include whether the officer’s life or the lives of others were in immediate peril and there was no reasonable or apparent means of escape.

DRAWING OR EXHIBITING FIREARMS. Unnecessarily or prematurely drawing or exhibiting a firearm limits an officer's alternatives in controlling a situation, creates unnecessary anxiety on the part of citizens, and may result in an unwarranted or accidental discharge of the firearm. Officers shall not draw or exhibit a firearm unless the circumstances surrounding the incident create a reasonable belief that it may be necessary to use the firearm in conformance with this policy on the use of firearms. Note: During a special meeting on September 29, 1977, the Board of Police Commissioners adopted the following as a valid interpretation of this Section: "Unnecessarily or prematurely drawing or exhibiting a firearm limits an officer's alternatives in controlling a situation, creates unnecessary anxiety on the part of citizens, and may result in an unwarranted or accidental discharge of the firearm. An officer's decision to draw or exhibit a firearm should be based on the tactical situation and the officer's reasonable belief there is a substantial risk that the situation may escalate to the point where deadly force may be justified. When an officer has determined that the use of deadly force is not necessary, the officer shall, as soon as practicable, secure or holster the firearm." (2010 LAPD Manual 1/556)

CATEGORICAL USE OF FORCE ADJUDICATION PROCEDURE

INCIDENT	Hit	No Hit	Hit/No Hit Ratio
2010	26	14	65%
2009	27	9	75%
2008	31	11	74%

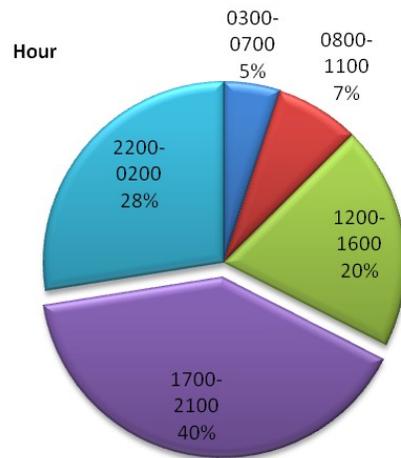

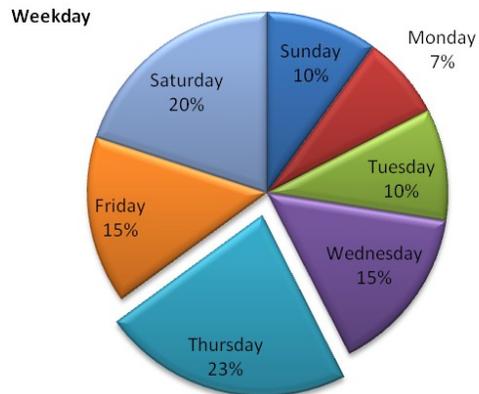

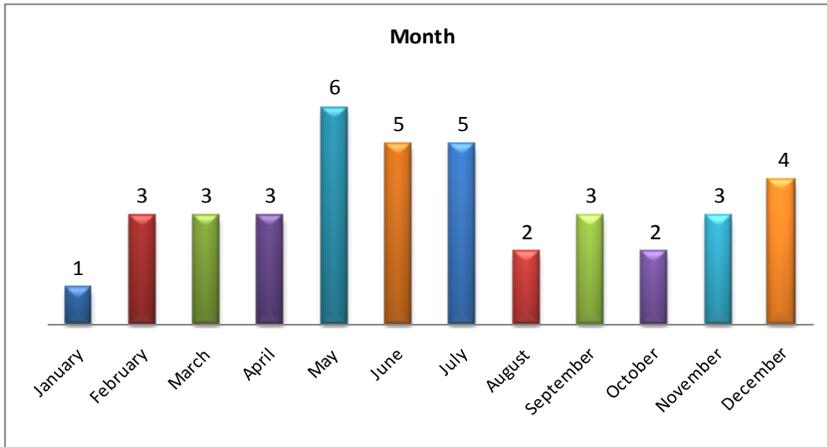

- Observation activities and Radio Calls represent approximately 65 percent of Hit/No Hit incidents
- Traffic/pedestrian stops accounted for 54 percent of observation activities
- Disturbance calls represented 38 percent of radio calls
- Assault with a deadly weapon represented 31 percent of radio calls

HIT AND NO HIT OIS INCIDENT BUREAU/DIVISION OF OCCURRENCE

HIT AND NO HIT OIS INCIDENT MONTH/DAY/HOUR OF OCCURRENCE

HIT AND NO HIT OFFICER INVOLVED SHOOTING CLASSIFICATION TYPE

LAPD Officers were engaged in an OIS with a suspect(s) armed with a firearm or other weapon in 83 percent (I,II,V) of the Hit/No Hit incidents. In the Class IV type, perception shootings where no firearm was found, the officers perceived a firearm but pending further investigation, the suspect was in possession of an item perceived to be a firearm (i.e. cell phone, bottle).

Hit/No Hit incidents are classified as follows:

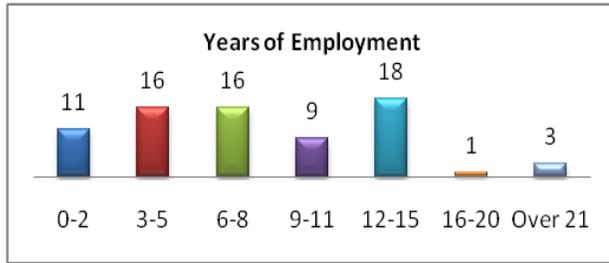

Type	Description
I	Suspect verified with firearm – fired at officer or 3 rd party
II	Suspect verified with firearm – firearm in hand or position to fire, but did not fire
III	Perception shooting – firearm present but not drawn
IV	Perception shooting – no firearm found
V	Shooting of person armed with weapon other than firearm
VI	Shooting of person with no weapon - SBI to self/others
VII	Tactical Discharge

HIT/NO HIT OIS—OFFICER INFORMATION

- 75 Officers discharged their firearm, in 40 Hit/ No Hit incidents. In one incident the discharge was a warning shot (not included in the following graphs)

- The rank, assignment, years of employment, firearm, distance and rounds fired were consistent with prior years

HIT/NO HIT INCIDENT—SUSPECT INFORMATION

- Out of the 40 Hit/No Hit OIS incidents, 16 suspects were killed and 13 suspects were injured
- 14 Hit/No Hit incidents involved documented gang members
- Seven incidents involved suspects under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol
- Two incidents involved a suspect with a mental disorder
- One incident involved a female suspect

Suspect Race

In the four of the five incidents involving Officer’s perception of a firearm, the suspects were in possession of a bat, cell phone, bottle, and an unknown dark object. The suspects made similar movements as raising a firearm and pointing it towards the officers. In the fifth incident, the officer heard gunfire and discharged his/her firearm.

ANIMAL SHOOTING INCIDENTS

- 15 of the 18 Animal OISs, involved a dog shooting
- The other three were off duty, involving a bear, opossum, and a bobcat

Source of Activity

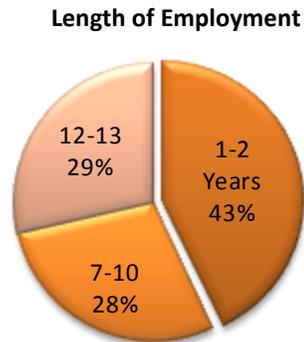

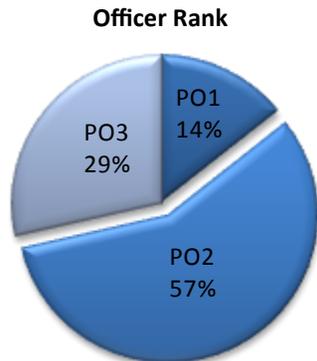

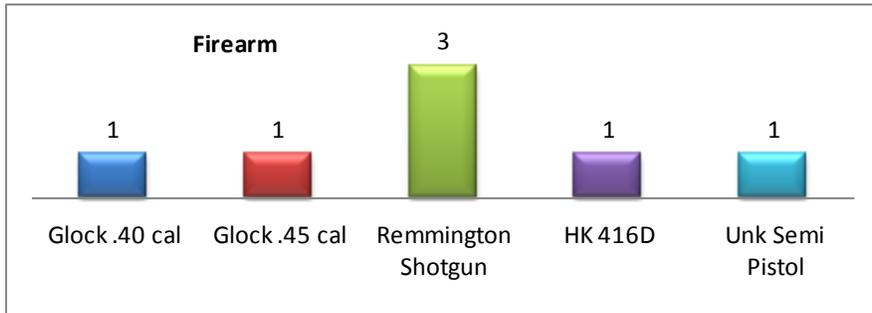

Breed

- Three incidents occurred while conducting police activity, and accidentally pressed the trigger
- Four incidents occurred during an inspection of the firearm and accidentally pressed the trigger

CAROTID RESTRAINT CONTROL HOLD INCIDENT

There was one CRCH incident in 2010. In the incident, the officer was attempting to handcuff a violent suspect armed with a firearm.

HEAD STRIKE INCIDENTS

There were three Head Strike incidents in 2010. One of the three incidents, was an intentional use of deadly force to strike the suspect's head with a baton. The other two incidents were inadvertent strikes to the suspect's head with a bean bag round and a baton.

IN-CUSTODY DEATH INCIDENTS

There were seven ICD incidents in 2010, which was an increase over 2009 (1), but consistent with the average of the previous three years (6).

- Five of nine incidents were generated by a radio call, three observation investigations, and one task force/special detail
- All incidents involved suspects that were fighting and resisting arrest
- Four suspects were documented gang members
- Three suspects were under the influence of drugs/alcohol
- Suspect Race: one Black, three Hispanic, three White, two Other

Non-Categorical Use of Force Incidents

NON-CATEGORICAL USE OF FORCE INCIDENT SUMMARY

Overall, NCUOF incidents decreased six percent Department-wide between 2010 and 2009, with Level I incidents remaining consistent.

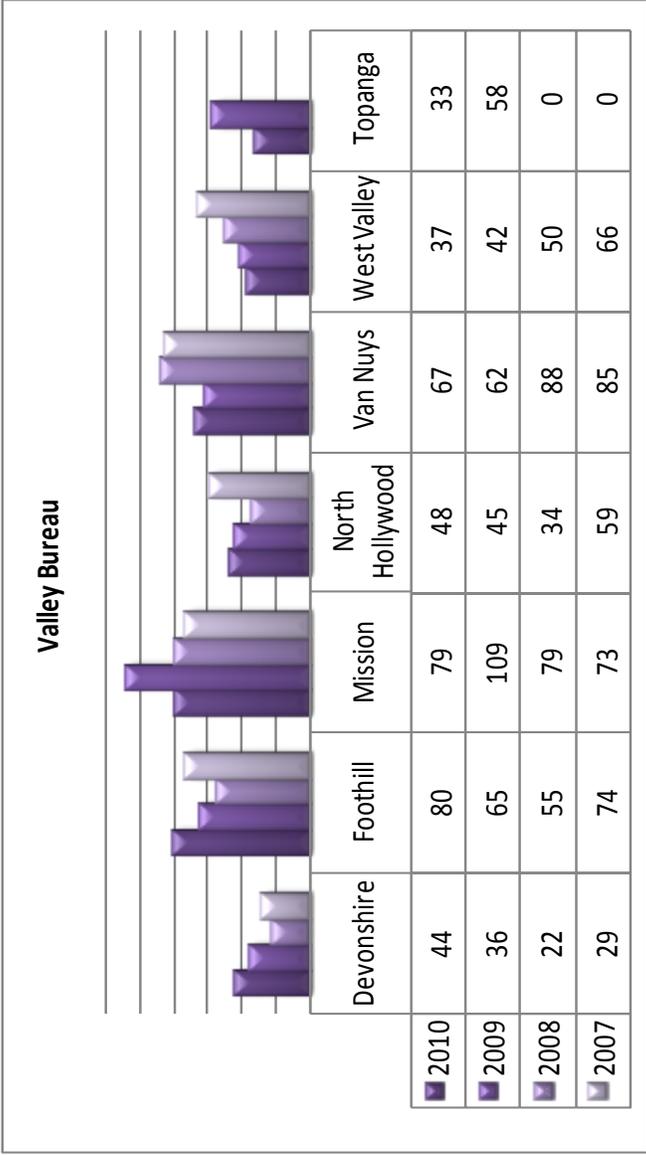

YEAR	NCUOF INCIDENTS	LEVEL I / LEVEL II
2010	1575	113/1462
2009	1676	113/1563
2008	1557	148/1409
2007	1699	180/1519

South Bureau

NON-CATEGORICAL USE OF FORCE INCIDENT OCCURRENCES

- 63 percent of NCUOF occurred on Thursday through Sunday
- 48 percent occurred between the hours of 6:00 PM and Midnight
- 48 percent of NCUOF occurred investigating a Radio Call, followed by 37 percent while conducting self-initiated, observational activities

FORCE OPTIONS USED DURING NON-CATEGORICAL USE OF FORCE INCIDENTS

- In 2010, some type of physical force accounted for 88 percent of all force options used during NCUOF incidents, compared to 87 percent in 2009 and 88 percent in 2008
- The most commonly used control device, a TASER, accounted for six percent of all Force Type options used during NCUOF incidents in 2010, followed by OC Spray with three percent
- The TASER was used 54 percent of the time (2009, 51 percent), OC Spray was deployed 27 percent (2009, 34 percent), Baton used 14 percent (2009, 11.2 percent) and the Bean Bag Shotgun was deployed 5 percent (2009, 3.8 percent)

During a NCUOF, one or more force option was used. In a single NCUOF incident, the involved officers may have used a chemical agent, a baton strike, and finally a takedown and physical force to control a subject. Each force option or tool used was counted separately and included in the chart.

INJURIES TO OFFICERS AND SUBJECTS DURING NCUOF INCIDENTS

Visible injuries suffered by officers during NCUOF incidents were similar in type as those suffered by subjects (i.e. contusions and abrasions) but not in frequency. The Officer and Subject tables detail the four categories used to capture injuries during NCUOF incidents. Visible injuries include contusions and bruises, lacerations, punctures, scratches and abrasions. Officers and subjects may have more than one visible injury (i.e. a contusion and an abrasion) which would be counted separately. The most common visible injuries were abrasions/scratches.

ADJUDICATION OF NON-CATEGORICAL USE OF FORCE INCIDENTS

All NCUOF incidents are reviewed by the officer's chain-of-command to ensure compliance with Department policy, and adherence to tactical standards and training. All NCUOF incidents are reviewed by commanding officers where a finding for force and tactics employed by the officer are evaluated. Each officer who uses force during a NCUOF incident is given separate findings for the force and tactics. These findings are bifurcated to better evaluate the actions of the officer leading up to and during the incident (tactics) and the actual control tools (force) used by that officer. The officer's Area commanding officer (where appropriate) and Bureau commanding officer, also review the investigation and provide their own findings. The Office of Administrative Services is the final authority in adjudicating NCUOF incidents and delegates to the commanding officer, Use of Force Review Division, the responsibility of the final review and adjudication of NCUOF incidents on behalf of the Chief of Police.

In 2010, over 99 percent of all officers involved in a NCUOF were found to be consistent with Department training and/or policy.
