$15,000 REWARD

STOLEN ART

The below limited edition fine art prints by Andy Warhol decorated the walls of an office building in Hollywood. In 2015, the original prints were discovered to have been stolen and replaced with fakes. The year of theft is unknown. All of the prints are from the same set and have the same edition number (73/200). However, some of the numbers may have been altered to appear to be 78/200 in order to evade detection. A $15,000 reward is being offered for information leading to the recovery of this art.

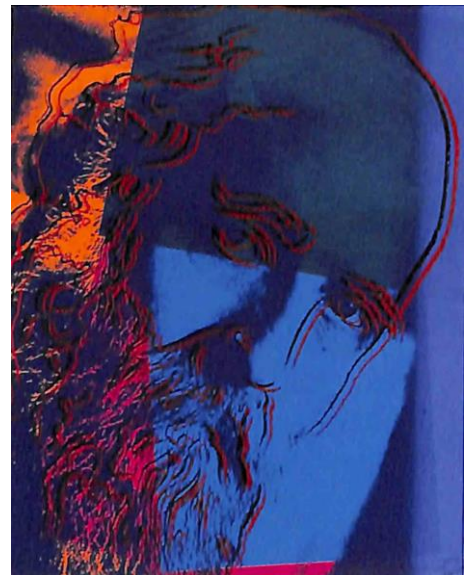

The screenprints are from the series Ten Portraits of Jews of the Twentieth Century made in 1980. Each is 40" x 32" and signed.
