Captain’s Message

In the wake of the City’s recent school violence, we must look at what we can do at home to keep our children safe. Overall, schools are one of the safest places children can be. However, some schools have problems, such as bullying, thefts, and weapons on campus. These problems make students and teachers feel unsafe, and it increases the difficulty for students to learn and for teachers to teach.

Pacific Area Juvenile Detectives suggest that parents and other adults follow the below suggestions to help make sure children have a positive school experience:

- Talk to your children about their day. Sometimes children won’t tell you right away if they are having problems at school. Ask your children if they have seen anyone being bullied, if they are bullied, or if anything else makes them feel uncomfortable. Look for warning signs, such as a sudden drop in grades, loss of friends, or torn clothing.
- Teach children to resolve issues without fighting. Talk to them about other ways they can work out a problem, such as talking it out, walking away, or telling an adult.
- Keep an eye on your children’s Internet use. Let them know they can talk to you about anything they see online especially things that they have questions about or they feel uncomfortable about.
- Map out a safe route for your children to walk to school, or to the bus stop. Avoid busy roads and intersections. Do a trial run with them and point out places they should avoid along the way, such as vacant lots, construction areas, and parks where there aren’t many people.
- Encourage your children to walk to school, or to the bus stop, with a sibling or friend, and to wait at bus stops with other children.
- Teach your children not to talk to strangers. Teach them that if they see anyone suspicious hanging around, or in their school, they should tell an adult.

Although most schools are safe, a few others are susceptible to crime and violence. The National School Safety Center (NSSC) has completed several surveys with students about crime, guns and drugs that produced alarming results all the way down to middle school students. There are no easy answers to the survey results and other difficulties that youths face today, but it is clear that collaboration between parents, educators, crime prevention practitioners and Pacific Area Officers is essential. Contact your Senior Lead Officer for additional information on child and school safety.

Sincerely,

Jon F. Peters, Captain
Commanding Officer
Pacific Community Police Station

PACIFIC YOUTH PROGRAMS

The Los Angeles Police Department Pacific Area Station has two thriving youth programs DAP’s (Deputy Auxiliary Police) and Explorers. The DAP’s program covers ages 9-13 helping boys and girls to develop a positive relationship with the police as well as installing integrity, leadership skills, positive communication and community involvement. We achieve these goals through participation in sports, field trips, craft activities and personal tutoring.

Our Explorers program develops leadership and discipline in young people between the ages of 14-21. These young men are interested in serving the community by assisting the police and learning basic police skills and procedures. The young men and women of the Explorers program are also assisted with becoming police officers, attending college and becoming valued members of our community.

Our youth programs are growing by leaps and bounds all over the city and especially here in Pacific Station. Pacific Area Boosters annual supports our efforts with the youth programs by providing the funds needed for trips, material and food. The majority of our kids are under privileged and the assistance they receive through our youth programs is invaluable to them. Pacific Area Boosters also supports our youth programs by funding our shoe program for kids, tutoring, swimming lessons, educational scholarships, Christmas toy drive for the needy children and much more.

Pacific Area Boosters Association needs your help in the form of a tax free donation. Please send all donations to Pacific Area Boosters Association, Inc.
